FLAMES CONTINUE TORAGE IN FORESTS OF THIS SECTION.

Mountains South of Town
Are Swept By Fire.

SMOKE HANGS OVER RAILROAD.

South Connelville Had Narrow Escape When Wind Swirled Flames Toward River—in Other Parts of County Property is Threatened.

Only a providential wind saved the town of South Connelville from a serious conflagration as a consequence of the mountain fires which have raged in the neighborhood south of there for the past few weeks. Although the fire was fanned by the gale which blew down from the mountains several successive nights, they were blown towards the Youghiogheny river and are now well under control.

But while the wind helped South Connelville, it did harm on the mountains to the south and east of Connelville. All along the Baltimore & Ohio railroad between here and Cumberland travelers say the hills are aglow from the fires which cut their way through the thickly wooded sections so numerous between the two cities.

Railroading is conducted under difficulties. Although the wind had an effect of clearing the atmosphere in this section it is said that the smoke has wrapped the valleys along the Youghiogheny river and other mountain streams in a pall so dense it is difficult to observe objects even but a few hundred feet away. Utmost caution is being observed by the engineers of the Connelville division. At night the fixed signals show gloomily through the haze while in daytime the semaphores are obscured from view until approaching trains are almost upon them.

Damage that will run into thousands of dollars has already been done and along the line parties of fire fighters are exerting every effort to save what timber they can.

As far as is known no dwellings have been burned on the mountain sides although there have been some narrow escapes. At times the flames have burned almost to the edge of the settlements only to be driven back by frenzied attacks by the townspeople who have worked for days at a time to save their property from destruction. The Youghiogheny valleys is not the only point in this section which is threatened. A sudden change in the wind yesterday morning saved the Summit hotel, in Wharton township, from destruction. The flames had burned within 50 yards of this building and were apparently beyond control. Since that time the volunteer firemen have succeeded in getting the best of the situation, for the present at least. The summer home of Dr. A. P. Bowls on Pine knob was threatened yesterday but immediate danger there is past.

The buildings of the Uniontown Water Company in Lick hollow, at Hutchinson, were threatened but action prevented the conflagration. The worst fire in that section is now raging in the mountains about the Jemisonville Orphan's School. There many buildings have been in danger for several days past and as yet all efforts to control the fire have failed. In daylight the fire fighters work to good advantage and have little trouble in busting the blaze. With darkness come the mountain winds that blow almost a gale in gusts and fan the flying embers in a blaze. But for these night winds the fire would have been conquered a week ago. It is only the past week that the winds have been blowing but their presence is a continuous menace to the mountain homes. All the work of the fire fighters during the day is set at naught, and they are unable to cope with the fire when it is fanned by them.

It is believed that the situation is much improved in spite of unfavorable conditions. A good bit of the territory in which the fires are located has already been burned over and but little progress is made. Should a mountain storm develop, and this is a constant source of fear, the outlook would be altered to a great degree and might result in a disastrous conflagration. The fire which started between Sand rock and Bergen Run, near Perryopolis, Wednesday, is still making headway. At 9 o'clock this morning it was still burning and all the neighbors in the Jackson and Washington districts were called out to stop the flames on their way to a number of dwellings.

To fight fire with fire is the method used and if it is not stopped it will sweep over several hundred acres more and destroy hundreds of dollars worth of property. The fire was with in a mile and a half of Perryopolis last evening.

Moose Convention Is Treated to Sensation When Arrest Is Made.

A sensation was sprung at the convention of the Loyal Order of Moose yesterday afternoon, when John H. Risbeck, an organizer had M. D. L. Brooks arrested for embezzlement. The warrant was issued from the office of Magistrate John H. Boyle and the arrest was made during the session of the convention. Brooks is charged with the larceny of $6.

Mr. Brooks was in town this morning and stated that Risbeck had used this method of endeavoring to bring him into dispute with the order, he

JOHN D. ARCHIBALD.

John D. Archibald, vice president of the Standard Oil Company, is the man whose correspondence with Senator Foraker and whose influence with Governor Harkness, of Oklahoma, combined with letters from William H. Hearst, has created so great a stir in political circles. Mr. Archibald personally is a colored man and very philanthropic in his donation to charitable purposes. He was born in Pennsylvania, O. in 1871. He entered the oil fields of Pennsylvania in 1891 and made a big fortune. He is interested in two acts and also in science.

PROMISE OF RAIN AND COLD WAVE IS GIVEN.

Weather Man Declares Moisture and Chill Blasts Are Working
This Way.

According to the Weather Man the cold wave about which there has been much talk for some time is bearing down upon the section and should arrive tomorrow. From ideal autumn days, with just a touch of frost in the air, the mercury is expected to be scattering down the tube and the first ice of the season formed.

While there has been a movement toward heavier clothing there is still evidence of plenty of summer in the attire of women, who are loath to give up the flimsy warm weather garments. Overcoat make their appearance in the evening but a general getting out of heavy clothing will be necessary if the indication proves correct this time. The manner in which the matter is given to the public is that there will be showers tonight and following this will come the chill winds. The forecast will be appreciated by the whole section at least. Not only among the manufacturing interests but everywhere. A soaking rain will have the effect of putting out the numerous forest fires which almost surround Connelville and will replenish the mountain streams and bring general relief.

P. W. HETZEL NAMED SECOND LIEUTENANT.

Election of Company D Held at Armory Last Night Passed Off Quietly.

P. Wilhelm Hetzel was elected second lieutenant of Company D last night after three ballots were taken. The company did not deadlock, which was somewhat in the nature of a surprise for past elections in the company have not been so fortunate. It has in the past, been something of a habit for the company to hold two, three and even four elections before arriving at an office to one of its members. But things have changed since then and Captain Henry Dunn has succeeded in instituting more than a little enthusiasm and a system in the organization. The vote on the final ballot was 22 to 15 in favor of Hetzel. His opponent was Attorney Leslie A. Howard.

Mr. Hetzel has only been a member of the company for a few months yet in that time he has made rapid strides toward the front and moves the confidence of his fellow members. He held the post of adjutant and was elected sergeant at the time of his promotion to a commission.

During the campaign a dirty, low Joseph Hetzel was elected sergeant but Col. Dunn held the election to be a mistake. Mr. Hetzel took his place a creditably and retired from the post.

LAID ON TRACK IN FRONT OF EXPRESS.

Young Man Apparently Deliberately
Committed Suicide at Blawie
This Morning.

As last express train No. 17 was speeding towards Connelville at 10 o'clock this morning at 11 o'clock a well dressed young man walked deliberately upon the track and laid down. He was instantly killed. Engineer Mike Darr of Connelville was at the throttle and Conductor James Parker had charge of the train.

The train was making its usual fast time and before it could be stopped after striking the man his body was ground to pieces and identification would be extremely hard. His clothes were neat and appeared to be of a good nature. In his pockets there was found about 5 cents. The young man was light haired, but it is impossible to guess his age.

The remains were gathered up and brought to Smith's morgue at Connelville where they were prepared for burial.

Probers to Submit Report.

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 23.—Stanley W. Finch and the other expert of the government who have been sent into the Pittsburgh district to investigate the delay in bringing to trial J. R. F. Kinch, accused of the wrecking of the Farmers and Grocers National Bank of Washington, have returned from the latter town a Pittsburgh, for the gathering of further data here. It is believed that they have practically completed their work, and that their report will be submitted soon to the authorities at Washington.

Costly Philadelphia Fire.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 23.—(Special.)—Fire of an incendiary origin early today destroyed the large Sewing Machine Company's building on Chestnut street. One hundred men, clothes and thousands of dollars worth of parts were destroyed. The loss will total $60,000.

DETAILS COMPLETE FOR MONSTER PARADE OF REPUBLICANS WHICH MOVES TOMORROW NIGHT.

Eight Bands and Large Delegations from Surrounding Towns Will Be in Line—To Be Followed By Meeting at Soisson Theatre—Republican Success Assured Throughout Whole Region.

Col. J. M. Reid, Chief Marshal of the Republican parade to be held in Connelville Saturday evening, completed the formation of the parade this morning. The parade will be formed on North Pittsburgh street with wings on the side streets in that territory. Then it will move over North and South Pittsburgh streets to Fairview ave.; thence to Cottage avenue; thence to Main street and disband in front of the Soisson Theatre, where the addresses will be placed immediately afterward.

B. P. Wallace, Secretary of the Committee of Arrangements, has been in communication with out-of-town delegations and from the list already compiled the parade will be a monster one. There will be eight bands and nearly every town in this section will send large delegations. Joseph Meigs of Vandellville has a delegation of 50 men on horseback and the party workers in Stewart and Bullskin townships will send a number of hay wagons, gaily decorated with the decorations from these towns.

Cleaning Up of Confluence Alleys Results in Resignation of Burgess.

CONNEVILLE, Oct. 23.—Connelville has had many stormy days in regard to the health situation and as a culmination there has been a general upheaval in the efforts of the town's Burgess. Burgess has resigned and W. R. Watson has been prevailed upon to take his position.

The matter came about through the cleaning up of the alleys of the town. Health Officer Taylor made a visit to the alleys and found many of them unsanitary. He had them cleaned up and presented the bills to the property holders. They refused to pay and the matter was brought before Judge DeCoursey. He acquired the vendors and played the charges of the prosecution upon the health officer. City Council held a meeting to consider the situation and at the session the resignation of the Burgess was received and accepted.

THE RETURN OF REPUBLICAN CONFIDENCE.

Confidence in the election of Taft and a Republican Congress is rapidly gaining ground in the closing days of the campaign. The Bryan bubble has burst. The Fearless Blow always blows a large and beautiful bubble, and the inevitable fate of the bubble is to burst. Chairman Hitchcock, Senator Penrose and other capable judges say the result is no longer a matter of doubt but a matter of majorities.

The business world seems to have arrived at the same conclusion. The newspapers this week report the conclusion of a contract between one big coal firm for $5,000,000 worth of pig iron during the ensuing five years to be delivered at the rate of $1,000,000 worth a year. Large tracts of coal land have been purchased in the Greene county coal field and their development planned involving the expenditure of millions of money and the employment of thousands of workmen. Greene county has always been Democratic, but it is not a question of sheep this year. In the Connelleville regions of Fayette and Westmoreland counties, and in the coal region of Somerset county, similar expenditures for improvements are under way. Our local industrial interests generally are preparing for bigger and better business after the election. If they thought Bryan would be elected they would be getting ready for duller times, not for more active business; they would be retrenching, not expanding.

A significant straw showing the direction of the political wind is a transaction recorded by Lloyd's, the great English assurance firm, insuring business interest to the extent of $500,000 against the election of Bryan. The rate premium and the conditions of the insurance were figured on odds of 9 to 1 on Taft. Lloyd's have confidential agents in all parts of the United States whose estimates are strictly non-partisan.

The Courier stated a week or more ago that there was no reason for the Republicans to become unduly apprehensive. Senator Knox set the example a couple of days ago of aggressive confidence. Confidence is not confined to partisanship, but extends to calculating commercialism. It is in the air. The lost trail has been recovered by the puzzled political prophets and they are now able to plainly see the trend of popular opinion. It is unmistakably for a continuance of Republican policies and against any doubtful Democratic experiments.

SOME DEMOCRATIC CAMPAIGN CANARDS.

The season of the Campaign Canard is here with its usual crop of Democratic inventions. Under the bossism of Bryan the Democratic party has dwindled in numbers, enthusiasm and influence, but there never has been any perceptible diminution in its stock of campaign canards.

A few days ago the Fearless Leader opened the canard season by declaring that the Republicans wanted a million dollars with which to buy the election and they have always bought it. The Republican National Committee do not ask for a million dollars, because they know they could not get it if they did. The Republican campaign fund is coming from the People and not from the Trusts, in which respects there is a strong suspicion that it differs somewhat from the Democratic fund, which has an ill-smelling oily odor. The Republicans are not attempting to buy the election at any price, because they know they cannot buy it. Republican campaign managers usually have horse-sense. They do not attempt the impossible, in which respect they differ from their Democratic opponents. The Million Dollar Canard is a Million Dollar "kid."

An obscure Congressman named Rainey, who has never been heard of in the House, exhibits some wit in securing a fleeting place in the limelight of national publicity by producing a Panama Canal Canard. He doesn't openly charge that there has been grafting in connection with the Panama Canal purchase, but he says he is going to interrogate the President in the next House concerning certain particulars of the transaction. This is a sample of the insinuating Canard. This particular variety of the canard is not very effective. The Missouri people are not the only persons who want to be shown.

The News, not to be outdone by the big politicians, produces a little canard of its own. It says the Pension Department is sending out Republican campaign literature under its official frank along with the pension vouchers of the old soldiers. The insinuating Canard is a specialty of The News. But this Pension Canard is the real old-fashioned thing with its unmistakable identity stamped broadly upon its face. Its effect has been of the demerolizing order. Instead of setting the old soldiers against the Republican administration, it has aroused their indignation against The News and the Democratic party. The Courier is in receipt of a number of angry denials from old soldiers officially accompanied by the statement that they do not need any campaign literature to keep them loyal to the government and the principles they fought for on the field of honor and danger.

The Campaign Canard is peculiarly the weapon of the disgruntled minority, who failing in fair methods employ disreputable means to further their cause. The laxest crop of Democratic Campaign Canards is only another proof of the fact that the Democratic hopes have come to a desperate stage. If the Democrats were as confident as they profess themselves to be they would have no inducement to descend to the despicable depths of such evil commerce as the manufacture of Campaign Canards.

THE POLITICAL SITUATION CLEARING UP.
As the campaign draws to a close the elements of doubt are being up where they can be counted. The evidences of popular opinion have been remarkably lacking this fall in Fayette county as well as in the nation at large, but as the fight has warmed up public sentiment has appeared more plainly in evidence, and the political prophets no longer have any difficulty in coming to more definite and satisfactory conclusions.

The national situation is believed to be entirely safe for the Republican ticket, while it is clearly apparent that Fayette county will go Republican by its customary emphatic plurality. County sentiment is plainly indicated in the character of the meetings being held during the past couple of weeks. The Republican meetings are largely attended and full of enthusiasm, while the Bryan meetings as a rule have been slim and slow and lifeless.

Any other condition, however, would be most unnatural. The people of Fayette county have no sympathy with Free Trade or Free Silver policies. Both are destructive of Fayette county interests and Fayette county prosperity, and no class of Fayette county citizens are more seriously interested in maintaining the principle of Protection and upholding the integrity of the dollar than its workingmen.

The Republican county ticket is in every way worthy of the united support of all the Republicans, and regardless of individual feelings all the Republicans are for it. We have yet to hear of any being against it. It was fairly nominated; it is composed of men of character and ability, it is the best ticket in the field, and it should and will be elected.

SIDEWALK REFORM IN EVIDENCE.

There are evidences of a sidewalk reform in Connelleville since some earnest protests against the superficial and shabby, spotty and spattered, squalid and squalid variety have been laid before the Town Council and that body has taken action looking toward better conditions.

Connellsville sidewalks should keep pace with other Connelleville improvements. Our public thoroughfares are for the most part paved with brick, though some of the principal streets will ere long have to be repaved in portions thanks to the unskilled and careless work of those who have for various reasons at various times dug them up. The sidewalks should be made to conform to the street conditions. The borough authorities cannot compel property owners to replace ramshackle old wooden buildings with modern structures, but they can compel them to lay modern sidewalks and to keep them in proper repair. In doing so the authorities are only doing their duty, and they should do this duty without discrimination.

The News announces the remarkable discovery that Presidential candidates whose names end in "n" have always been elected, and submits this as proof of the fact that merit will be victorious November 3rd. The News has a short memory, else it would recall the fact that Bryan was beaten in 1896 and again in 1900 by a man whose name ended with "n." The risk of "n" has apparently gone out of fashion.

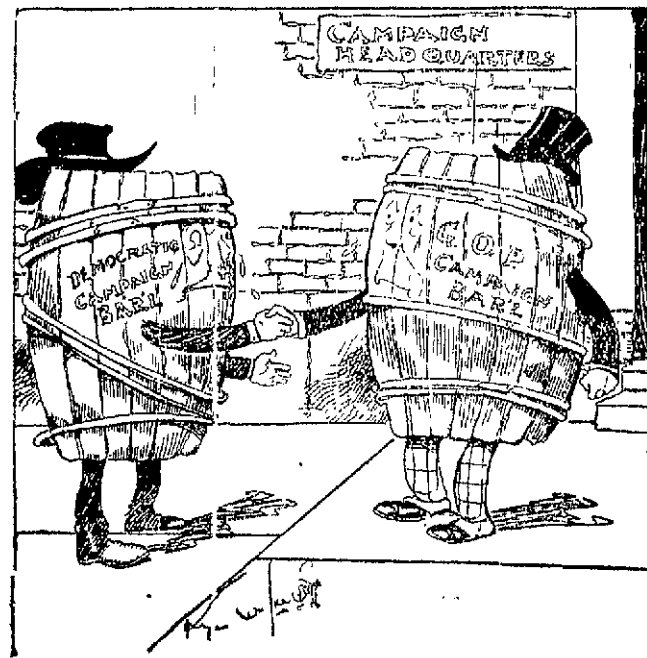

The Big Stick is poised over the head of the canard.

Bluestone takes a certain toll of death in its operations, but it is seldom that the victims are troublesome. They are usually blow-ups.

While Hearst's pockets are still bulging with Standard Oil letters, and he says he has a lot of money to give out before the campaign is over, it is safe to say that some statesmen are sweating blood.

The weather prophets promise rain at last. The Republicans propose to make it snow tomorrow night.

The legions under the Saltlick township will can hardly be expected to be frightened by the threat to dismember them.

One Bar! (to the other)—This empty feeling that has afflicted us this campaign is awful. Campaign contributions to all parties have been comparatively small this year.—News Item.

When they make a contest. If they are as Democratic as the names of Whit and Saltlick would lead us to believe they will possibly give up the idea of the Bryan campaign fund.

The News says we are "leading green rooms." Not on your life. We have seen a green room, but the editorial staff of The News proposed the green room story on some page of Pittsburgh newspaper. An editor who can't tell the truth about the much talked about "green room" story of the Pittsburghers concerning political meetings.

Hang out the Republican banners.

The News with all the emphasis of capital letters insists that it holds Truth above all other things. It holds it so far above that Truth is always out of sight.

A Great Awakening is what the Official Organ of the Young Men call the Democratic meetings at Connelleville recently, and so it was, for the sleepers whom the police in the course of their duty to keep order, had to wake up.

Get ready for the big Connelleville meeting tomorrow night.

The fresh winds have cleared the smoky atmosphere and we breathe once again the fragrance of our old friend, Bill Tell.

The Young men may not be much just now, but it was evident to the neighborhood from a considerable distance from the lot, that they were driven by the wind toward the water. It is not often that they take to water.

Philander C. seems to have put more backbone into the Republican campaign. The Republicans are now forcing the fight.

The report that Taft was McKinley's choice for President is not a canard.

The Democrats are arresting the Cleveland letter before it is written.

Cleveland has tried of its expert men in municipal ownership of its street railways in spite of threatened laws. The objection is founded in the complaint that the street cars even a three-cent service. This is always the chief objection to municipal ownership. Politics are not a matter of the usual if not the inevitable result of Decorate.

The ballot this year will be a big one, but not hard to vote. A cross-matched in the square opposite the word "Republican" will do the business in the best possible manner.

Scottsdale is buying West Virginia paving brick. Our neighbors might do as well if not better closer to home.

Company D is becoming more numerous in the election of its officers.

Saturday afternoon bank half-holiday will take their winter vacation with the close of this month, when the melancholy days come.

The small of rain is in the air, but we hope that the snow will not be all we get.

The people are not yet ready to abolish the courts. When they are they will heed the vicious inhuman doctrines of Gumpers and Bryan.

The war in the Balkans has actually begun. Will it be a Thanksgiving Turkey?

Fayette county sports have not yet taken to ballooning, but some lady candidate is being promoted. Possibly the people are just getting themselves in practice.

The campaign promises to wind up without a groan and no ill.

Colonel Guffey's Ousey all ill at complete.

An exchange says the man with a record had better not be a candidate. It depends altogether upon the record.

TAFT EXPLAINS INJUNCTIONS.

Says He Issued Them and Would Do It Again.

GREETED BY BIG AUDIENCES.

His Campaign in Indiana Characterized by Educational Talks to Laborers in Which He Makes Clear the Use of Injunction.

Evansville, Ind., Oct. 23.—During the first of the three days he is to spend in Indiana William H. Taft talked to more people than on any previous day of his campaign. In each of his sixteen speeches the historic and applauders have numbered thousands. Rejuvenated in voice energy and enthusiasm by his one day rest the candidate handled the campaign with even a greater degree of positiveness than heretofore.

In the very first speech he made he ridiculed Mr. Bryan's charge of bribery in connection with the premises of employers to their employees of more work with Republican successes and the orders of business for goods said to be made contingent on the same result. These were not bribes, he said, but business. They did not represent false conditions but facts.

Judge Taft talked to many labor audiences and it was noticeable that what he said was more educational than heretofore. At Linton where he spoke to several thousand coal miners, he gave them the history of the use of injunction, something he has not previously done. At Terre Haute he made a clear distinction between the Republican and Democratic platforms on the use of the injunction and declared business to be property.

Deals Gently With Debs
While Mr. Bryan has not been over looked there were two occasions when Candidate Debs came in for attention. These were at Terre Haute, the home of Debs, and at the two meetings at Evansville addressed by Judge Taft. In both instances Mr. Debs was treated as a Socialist, a doctrine regarding which the candidate expressed the belief that the American people were not prepared yet to accept.

The largest outdoor gathering Mr. Taft said he had ever addressed was at Terre Haute. There were many in the carload of local politicians who escorted the candidate to the city. He said it was the largest gathering he has ever had. The injunction was the feature of this speech and after it had been explained and the position of the two parties clearly set forth the candidate declared with great vehemence:

"That is where the Republican party stands that is where I stand and I don't care what happens politically that is where I am going to stand and I have issued injunctions against less laboring men who were violating somebody else's rights. If I had not done it I should not have the right to be here asking for your suffrages."

What an injunction is
"What kind of a judge do you want? Do you want a judge that distinguishes between classes or decides in favor of one class against another? Is that the character of a judge you want in a free country? What is an injunction? An injunction is merely an order with reference to the prevention of the abuse made before the fact occurs which is to injure or not injure the party."

Where an injury has been done a man brings suit to recover damages for the injury but where the injury is of a character recurring from time to time in small acts for which you cannot recover damages that are adequate prevention rather than cure, then he may go to court and say, "This man is going to cut down my tree. It is on my place and he is my tenant. He is going to injure it by cutting it down. He goes into court and asks the judge to issue an injunction to prevent the cutting down of the tree. This is prevention better than cure in such a case. Why, then, should a judge refuse to issue an injunction? That is the remedy that has been in force for 400 years and is the most remedial writ that we have. It is to protect poor men, not to oppress them."

Should Not Be Abolished
"It is a remedy that ought to be enforced against anyone who does a lawless act that cannot have adequate remedy at law and to have it abolished merely because it has some times been abused and sometimes used against laboring men is to destroy the character of your courts is to destroy the science of law and to cause class legislation. He who can think of it you will utterly disappear. I am not here to apologize for what I have done in court. I am here to say that no decision of mine on such a subject has ever been reversed and I had not decided a third and if I had not enforced my injunctions when I issued them I should not have the right to come here and stand before you and ask you to vote for me as a presidential candidate."

New York, Oct. 23.—A human figure, cook of the President's national committee postponed at the last moment his departure for Chicago and this afternoon he was detained at a hotel on the day at his hotel where he saw a number of visitors among them being Charles P. Taft of Ohio and several leaders in nearby states.

Having discovered that the schoolules prepared would bring Mr. Taft and Mr. Bryan together at Port Chester, N. Y. next Monday the Republican and the Democratic national committees through their publicists but renews arranged their dates with the result that Mr. Bryan will speak at Port Chester in the morning of Monday and Mr. Taft will make his address there at 3 o'clock the same afternoon.

Says McKinley Named Taft
Dr. O. O. 23.—Senator John P. Doherty of Iowa enacted the same at a public meeting in this city in the Victoria theater last night. He delivered an address covering particularly the personal fitness of Judge Taft for the presidency. The climax of his address came when he told the story of how he had heard William McKinley as president of the world before his death name Taft for the presidency.

DEMOCRATIC INSINUATIONS

That Roosevelt Permitted Grafting in the Panama Canal Purchase

Chicago, Oct. 23.—Representative Henry T. Rainey of Illinois announced through press headquarters at the Democratic national committee that he will on the opening day of congress in December next introduce a resolution calling for a congressional investigation of the Panama canal purchase in discussing the matter Mr. Rainey said:

I am sorry the president's letter to Senator Knox did not take up the matter of the Panama canal purchase. The president ought to be able to tell whether or not his brother-in-law and the brother of the Republican candidate for the presidency were interested in an American syndicate which it is said succeeded in getting control of the securities of the Panama Canal company just before the Nicaragua route was abandoned and the Panama route adopted. The president ought to be in a position to know who the members of the American syndicate were. The country has a right to know all about it and I intend to see that it is made public. A soon as congress convenes in December I will introduce a resolution asking for a point of order on the subject of the Panama canal purchase and require the presentation of books and papers to thoroughly investigate the matter.

At this time Mr. Rainey would have privileged I expect to ask it in my principal business in congress, to see that this matter is thoroughly investigated.

TIRE OF MUNICIPAL TROLLEY

Cleveland Notes Down the Tire Cent Fare Franchise

Cleveland, Oct. 23.—The franchise under which the Municipal Traction company is operating the local street railway lines upon a franchise basis was defeated by a majority of 879 in the referendum vote. The total vote cast was upward of 7,000.

The defeat of the franchise may mean that the railway property will revert to its original owners and that the old rate of fare still which had been seven cents will be reduced. The only alternative will be for the city council to place it in a new franchise which will save the property to the Municipal Traction company.

It is stated by newspaper editors that the franchise was defeated not so much upon the issue involved as upon the general dissatisfaction of the public toward the service given by the operating company. The vote came as the climax to a general street railway strike which has been waged here for years, with three fare and ultimately in municipal ownership. The goal of the city and municipality this was constantly opposed by the old Cleveland Traction Railway company which had been changing a five cent fare.

SUNNY JIM'S SATIRE.

Says Bryan Has New Issue With Every Rising Sun

Evansville, N. Y., Oct. 23.—Delegates from many local bodies, local churches, clubs and numerous local bands joined here this morning in honor of Congressman Jim S. Sherman who spoke at the Evansville theatre before a large audience. Congressman Sherman presided and in a series of addresses introduced Mr. Sherman's men from Governor Hughes in a well-orchestrated and effective manner.

In his address Mr. Sherman said that he was not only a member of the family but a member of the family of the nation. He would be a member of the family of the nation. He would be a member of the family of the nation. He would be a member of the family of the nation.

In a speech that bristled with keen satire and which his hearers seemed thoroughly to enjoy Mr. Sherman introduced Mr. Bryan's policies. With every rising sun declared the speaker. Brother Bryan has a new issue which he forces on the nation every sun. He has no rested Republican ideal with Democratic promises.
